

News & Types: News

アラン・キャプラン弁護士の見解が、Illinois Bar Journalに掲載されました。

1/6/2020

Alan Kaplan was quoted in an Illinois Bar Journal article "Ready or Not, Cannabis Is Here."

Key Takeaways:

- Federal contractors are exempted, but all other employers must comply with the law's requirements
- The statute sets forth standards for determining when employees are under the influence of marijuana
- Although Governor Pritzker signed amendments to the recreational marijuana statute in December, employers still face questions about testing

As a result of the law, employers must review and revise their drug and alcohol policies, work with third-party testing facilities, and create and implement procedures to determine if employees are under the influence.

To read the article, click here and login to the Illinois Bar Journal website.