Practices: 不動産

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

CHICAGO – Masuda, Funai, Eifert & Mitchell, Ltd. represented CCI Manufacturing Illinois Corporation (CCI) on its acquisition of a site in Northern Alabama for the development of its new, $21.5M state of the art automotive fluids production facility. The facility will be Lawrence County’s first automotive supplier and create approximately 23 new jobs.

“We’ve represented CCI for many years and are excited about the successful completion of this acquisition after a lengthy, multi-state search,” said Principal Keith Groebe, leader of the team of firm professionals who handled the transaction. “We believe our clients appreciate our expertise in assisting them in strategically establishing their facilities throughout the U.S.” Other team members who were instrumental in achieving a positive result for our client were Michael Bedell and Jessica Tullier.

Headquartered in Japan, CCI is a Tier 1 auto supplier that develops, manufactures and sells car chemicals, car care products, resin and rubber products, soundproofing materials, vibration control materials and high-performance ceramics. Since its founding in 1949, CCI has been developing high-quality brake fluids based on accident investigation and on-going research.
