Miyuki Masuda is an associate in the firm's Immigration Group. She assists numerous international corporate clients with nonimmigrant petitions and visa applications for their employees, including E-1, E-2, L-1 and H-1B petitions as well as immigrant petitions.

As a member of the firm's Japan Practice, Miyuki works closely with our Japanese clients ensuring clear communication and efficiency throughout the immigration process.

During law school, Miyuki worked as a Legal Intern for the Greater Boston Legal Services Immigration Unit, preparing humanitarian immigration applications. Prior to entering law school, she was an immigration paralegal for more than 7 years supporting attorneys on a wide range of immigration matters, from nonimmigrant visas to permanent residence and citizenship applications.

Miyuki earned her Bachelor's degree in Psychology from Hokusei Gakuen University and her J.D. at New England Law | Boston. In 2024, she was honored with the Adams Pro Bono Publico Award from the Massachusetts Supreme Judicial Court Standing Committee on Pro Bono Legal Services for her commitment to public service.
