On November 19, 2025, Benjamin Gould participated as a panelist in the JASC program “Beyond the Numbers: What Legal, Financial, and Business Leaders Need to Know About U.S.-Japan Trade.” The event was held at the Omron Management Center of America in Hoffman Estates.

The program brought together legal, financial, and business leaders to discuss the evolving landscape of U.S.-Japan trade and the practical factors shaping cross border business today. Ben contributed the legal perspective, highlighting key differences between the United States and Japan in contracts, negotiation styles, and approval processes.
