Sheri Westfall is a senior paralegal with more than a decade of experience supporting foreign and domestic clients with corporate matters. She assists with the formation and dissolution of various entities, and she prepares and files corporate documents with Secretary of State offices across the United States. Sheri maintains meticulous corporate records for hundreds of business entities, she drafts shareholder and board actions, and she coordinates filings required by state agencies.

Sheri is very familiar with the corporate filing requirements of government agencies across the U.S., and she works closely with clients to help them navigate state-specific filing requirements, ensuring the corporate entities remain in good standing.

Prior to joining the firm, Sheri spent approximately 20 years at a Chicago law firm, where she gained extensive experience supporting attorneys in a variety of legal roles. Before beginning her legal career, she studied at the University of Southern Indiana.
