Mina Horiuchi is a Visiting Foreign Attorney from the law firm of Atsumi & Sakai in Tokyo, Japan, where she is a licensed Japanese attorney. She has legal expertise in general corporate matters, renewable energy, and domestic and international mergers and acquisitions, and IT transactions.

Mina obtained her LL.M. degree and Law and Technology Certificate from the University of California, Berkley, School of Law. She has a career as an in-house lawyer and, as a Visiting Foreign Attorney in our Los Angeles office, she joins our Japanese services team in that market, assisting with corporate governance and cross-border transactions, as well as intellectual property and technology matters, a practice area in which she has prior experience.

Since she is currently studying abroad, she has voluntarily de-registered from the Bar Association until she returns to Japan.
